THE DAILY NEWS.

Newport:

MONDAY APRIL 3, 1848.

JACKSON, 21-THAMES-ST.

Advertisers will please bear in mind that the circulation of the DAILY NEWS is more than DOUBLE that of the Daily Herald, and greater than the combined circulation of the Daily and Weekly Herald. As one proof of this fact, the list of Letters remaining in the Post Office is advertised in the NEWS, as BY LAW REQUIRED.

LAMARTINE.—The most prominent man in the Provisional Government of France is Lamartine. His eloquence appears to sway the populace at will. He is known to be a lover of peace, a moderate republican, and a man of integrity; hence, the most happy results are expected to flow from his accession to power.

Alphonse de Lamartine was born at Mâcon on the Saône, on the 31st of October, 1790. His father was a man of rank, and was imprisoned in the first revolution. Young Lamartine early came into possession of a large fortune, and feeling an instinctive desire for travel, set out on a journey to the Holy Land, accompanied by quite a numerous train of servants. His impressions of Palestine are recorded in one of the most poetical prose works in the French language. Lamartine is a sincere Christian believer.

For many years he was a member of the late Chamber of Deputies. In this body he always took the side of the people. He lately wrote a work, entitled, "The History of the Girondists," in which his love of liberty was shown in hundreds of eloquent passages. This book had an immense sale; and, by recalling the days of the Republic of 1791, contributed very materially, to hasten the present revolution. It has increased Lamartine's popularity to such an extent as to have made him for the present, the Idol of the French people.

The eloquence of Lamartine is of that impassioned and poetical character, which is peculiarly fitted for times of excitement. His oratory has almost proved the salvation of the new born republic in more than one difficult emergency. On the day the Provisional Government was proclaimed, the people continued to crowd to the Hôtel de Ville, five processions arriving in the course of little more than as many hours. The mob, composing these processions, was terribly excited, and ripe for excesses. It required a master mind, accordingly to sway them. In this emergency his associates looked to Lamartine, to arm in this perilous situation. Five several times he addressed the populace, and always succeeded in allaying its fury. Subsequent to this day also, his eloquence was exerted to the same effect. On one occasion the mob drowned his voice for half an hour, but Lamartine maintained his post, and finally, obtaining a hearing evaded the uprushing and angry mass, to his purposes. His oratory has always been exerted on the side of justice and moderation. He is bold as a lion when occasion requires it. When the mob, to the number of thousands, came to him, demanding that the red flag, the emblem of the Terrorists of 1793, should be the national one, he faced the tumult and refused the request in the following noble words:—" You demand from us the red flag instead of the tri-colored one. Citizens! for my part, I never will adopt the red flag, and I will explain in a word why I will oppose it with all the strength of my patriotism. It is citizens, because the tri-colored flag has made the tour of the world, under the Republic and the empire, with our liberties and our glories, and that the red flag has only made the tour of the Champ de Mars, toil through torrents of the blood of the people. Happily his eloquence triumphed, and the populace were pacified; but what nerve must it have required to speak thus in such a crisis?

Lamartine has a fine voice, a noble person, blue eyes, a prominent forehead, and a face expressive of humane, noble and enthusiastic ideas. A portion of his large fortune has already been employed in charity. If he maintains his present ascendancy, and we see no one now who can rival him, the revolution will be established on a just, moderate and firm basis. His office is that of Minister of Foreign Affairs, and he has, in this capacity, just issued an address to the diplomatic agents of France in all parts of the world which is a master piece of wisdom and eloquence.

Mr. Count DeLaporte is lecturing in Boston, on the French Revolution. The Count is a Professor in Harvard College, and was formerly quite a disengaged man in his native country, during the reign of Charles tenth; but on the fall of that monarch, he sought refuge in this country. We recollect hearing him lecture in this town a few years ago, and he then spoke in most bitter terms of Louis Philippe. This, of course, is the Count's day of triumph.

—This is the season when our merchants are getting in their new Spring stocks, and various changes are taking place in the community; it is, therefore, just the time for every one to advertise, and make known what they have for sale, &c.; now the Daily News is the proper and best medium through which they can do this; our paper goes all over town, and is found in every one's hand. It also circulates in neighboring towns, among the farmers, and we will guarantee to give the favors of our patrons a wide and general circulation among all classes and circles. Bring in your favors, and we will give you such a reputation as will bring customers to you by scores. Remember, the Daily News is the paper which has the largest circulation.

The New York star contains the following intelligence, which is one day later than that already published. The English paper containing it was mislaid. We doubt its authenticity.

Lord John Russell's resignation was positively decided upon on Saturday evening. Dispatches announcing his contemplated resignation were forwarded to Dublin, the intelligence appearing in the Dublin papers of Saturday, March 12.

Cabinet Councils were held in Downing-st. on Saturday evening, and during the day Lord Palmerston held a conference with Mr. Bancroft, U. S. Minister.

The Cabinet it was understood, had under consideration important concessions to Ireland, and a considerable extension of the elective franchise in the United Kingdom was talked of.

Douglas Jerrold, immediately after his arrival at Paris, had an interview with Lamartine, who received him in the most cordial manner.

We refer our readers to the advertisement of Mr. Mason, in another column, who is about opening a school to give instruction in drawing. Mr. M. is an artist of great merit and has already won for himself a brilliant reputation, although quite a young man. He has spent two years in Italy and had the benefit of instruction from the best living masters in the art; in addition to this, he possesses decided genius for his art, and this is an excellent opportunity for all who desire instruction.

MOZART'S RETENTIVE MEMORY.—When Mozart was at Rome, he went to the chapel Sixtine, to hear the celebrated Alberone of Allegri, of which every one was forbidden under pain of excommunication, to take a copy. Apprised of this, the ingenious German placed himself in a retired corner of the building, where he could have his thoughts to himself, and gave his closest attention to every bar. When the performance was over he hurried home, his head charged with what he had heard, and by memory, wrote down the whole of that elaborate composition. Some days after, at a concert, he sat down to a harpsichord, and, accompanying himself, sang a part of Allegri's Misericordia. The profound knowledge of music, and wonderful power of retention, evinced by this extraordinary circumstance, drew upon Mozart the attention of all Rome. His Holiness hearing of it caused the young musician to be presented to him; when instead of reprimanding his evasion of the sacred prohibition, he had the liberality to receive him in the most gracious manner, and to create him a Chevalier of the Golden Spur.

The Boston Atlas calls stopping newspapers taking "sixpenny vengeance."

THE LAST KING.—The Presse gives the following as an extract from a Havre letter:

"M. R, one of my friends, was present at the embarkation of the ex-King in a fishing boat on Thursday last. When on the point of quitting the French soil, Louis Philippe turned toward it, and said, 'Join the republic frankly and sincerely, for I carry with me the French Monarchy, and I shall descend with it to the tomb. I have been the last King of France. Adieu!'

The total population of Louisiana is said to be 427,765.

Thirty Congress--First Session

SENATE.—In the Senate a petition was presented numerously signed by citizens of New York, praying that Congress would make a report expressive of its opinion whether Slavery ever had a constitutional existence. Not received. Mr. Allen's joint resolutions, congratulating the French people on their success in the establishment of a Republican form of Government, were taken up, and read the second time. A long debate then ensued, on the question to postpone further action on them until after the assembling of the convention, which was ultimately cast off by a motion to go into executive session.

In the House, a resolution was adopted stopping the further debate upon the bill to refund to certain parties, the sums of money advanced to them to defray the transportation of volunteers on their way to Mexico. The amendments to the bill passed by the Senate were agreed to. The rest of the business was unimportant.

The Senate was in secret session five hours, and adjourned to prison Mr. Nugent, one of the New-York Herald's correspondents [Galvani] for refusing to tell who furnished a copy of the Treaty, &c. in said paper.

The Hon. Mr. Black, of S. C. is rapidly declining and is not expected to survive many hours.

CROSSING AT NIAGARA FALLS.—We have already stated that Mr. Ellott the contractor, on the 13th inst., crossed to the Canadian side on a wire cord of the new suspension bridge. The passage is perfectly easy and safe, and in a few days the line is now staked, will be strong enough to pass over cattle.

The contrivance by which this passage is effected is extremely simple and beautiful according to the following from the "Iris," published at the Falls.

The cable itself swings gracefully from cliff to cliff, 250 feet above the rapids. On this cable are placed two iron pulleys, with grooves in their circumferences; and from these pulleys is suspended an iron car or basket of commodious and graceful form.

The iron car for passengers hangs about our feet below the cable, and about twenty feet above the rock on either side; and is approached by a staircase leading to a landing on the supporting frame, while the platform for freight is attached by longer cords, and swings nearly level with the top of the cliff.

The passage was made in less than one-fourth the time that is consumed at any other ferry between the United States and Canada.

This ferry is now in constant and successful use, conveying men and things hourly from shore to shore.

LATEST FROM VENEZUELA.—Advices have been received from Venezuela, which state that the party of Gen. Paez is in the ascendant. He has addressed a long and very severe letter to President Monagas. Several provinces have declared for Gen. Paez.

One national vessel, with eight hundred stand of arms and $30000 in money, all intended for Monagas, had gone over to Paez. The latter was at the head of a powerful force, while the army of Monagas is represented as less than 3000 men, ill paid and ill fed, and diminishing continually by desertions.

Every effort is made by Monagas to cut off communication between Caracas and its port Lagunay, in order to prevent emigration, but many are continually leaving.

Mr. Clay left Pittsburgh, on Monday, the 27th, and reached Wheeling the same evening. The Times, of that city, says:—Mr. Clay had warmer friends, devoted to him in this city than in any other place of the size in the country, and he ever will have." Mr. Clay was to leave the boat at Maysville—his engagement not permitting him to visit Cincinnati.

George Sumner, now in Paris, writes a letter to the Boston Daily Advertiser, in which he expresses the opinion that the result of the National Assembly convoked, for the 20th of April will be the adoption of the United States Constitution, a President and two Chambers. From his intimacy with Lamartine, Mr. Sumner may be supposed to speak authoritatively. Mr. Godfrich, Peter Parley, who writes to the Boston Courier, thinks that "are the sky be cleared still further tempests must sweep over France, as well as other nations."

AN OFFRAY IN A MADHOUSE.—Two inmates of the Lunatic Asylum at Lancaster, Pa., fought on Tuesday, and one of them having secured a knife, inflicted a number of wounds on the other, causing his death in an hour afterwards. They had been at enmity for some time, and the murderer had doubtless procured the knife for the purpose of revenge.

—A gentleman in an omnibus yesterday speaking of the Provisional government of France, dryly remarked that it might work very well so long as the government scoured provisions; when that ceased, there would be another revolution.

The Razor Strap Man is holding forth in New Orleans.

—The next news from Europe will probably come to New York by the Washington from Southampton March 23 to arrive on Wednesday next.

Levi Lincoln, it is said, will be the first Mayor of the newly chartered City of Worcester, in Massachusetts.

The people of that beautiful town will reflect as much honor upon themselves as upon their distinguished fellow citizen by such a choice.

Mr. Astor.—The following gentlemen are Executors of the Will of late Mr. Astor, viz: Wm. B. Astor, Jr., Daniel Lord, Jr., James G. King, and Washinton Irving. Mr. Astor has willed $5000 a year to each of his executors until the estates are settled.

A committee of the Canada Assembly has been instructed to inquire whether drunkenness should not be made punishable on indictment, as a crime.

SIGNIFICANT.—The cries of the mob in Glasgow were, "Down with the Queen!"—"Bread or Revolution!" "Hurras for the Republic!"

The Mineral Bank, of Cumberland Maryland, has failed.

—Two hundred and sixty-eight canal boats have been built in Rochester during the last year.

In Fall Creek, Rutherford county, Tennessee, an aged woman, Mrs. Smith, was murdered by a negro woman.

General Lane is about returning to the United States, in consequence of the recent floods of the Ohio river having inundated his plantation, causing great damage.

CHLOROFORM.—A benevolent pork packer in Cincinnati administers chloroform to his pigs to render them insensible while being killed.

The publication of the Lowell Offering is to be resumed under the editorial charge of Miss Farley.

The Lowell Courier says that there are a number of cases of small pox in that city.

Those who wish to see the elephant, would do well to marry a young widow who is fond of gold watches and fine clothes.

The New London Star states that the sum of $22,000 has been subscribed by the citizens of that place to the New London and Williamsburg Rail Road.

Worcester.—The new city of Worcester has been divided into eight wards.

Ridge Railroad.—The bill allowing the Ridge Railroad Company to change the place of crossing the Delaware River has passed both Houses of the Pennsylvania Legislature.

—One of the most important effects of the recent progress of Science is the alliance of Chemistry with Physiology. By which a new and unexpected light has been thrown upon the vital processes of animals. For this we are indebted chiefly to the German and French chemists. We have now a clear understanding of the different anti & pro aliens, poisons, and remedial agents, and the long derided theory of the blood being the portion of the system upon which the latter should act, is now a demonstrated truth. The great object, therefore, is to ascertain what remedy will act most directly upon the constituents of the blood when in the act of combination, Experience, observation, and a cloud of witnesses, establish the fact that SAND'S SARSAPARILLA, is at the very head of this class. Cancer, scrofula, rheum, erysipelas, leprosy, ringworm, mercurial diseases, suppuration of the glands, swellings of the joints, and all the diseases of the muscles and tissues, together with general debility of the system, yield to this uns failin purifier of the blood—for the blood is the channel through which disease finds its way to the various organs of the body.

Prepared and sold by A. B. & D. SANDS, Druggists, 100 Fulton st. N. Y.

Sold also by Dr. R. R. Hazard, & Co., Boston;
